

Tirzah (Paperback)

By Lucille Travis

Herald Press (VA), 2004. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Twelve-year-old Tirzah and her family are slaves in Egypt. Pharaoh forces them to make mud bricks without straw, so Tirzah cuts grass for her father and older brother to use. The police crack their cruel whips to make them work harder. If only Tirzah's people could escape. If only Moses could persuade Pharaoh to let them go. Surely Yahweh, the Lord God, will hear their prayers to leave Egypt for a better life somewhere else, they hope.

Reviews

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You won't feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).

This kind of book is every little thing and taught me to look ahead of time and a lot more. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better than never. I found out this book from my dad and I encouraged this pdf to find out.
