Excerpt from Extracts From the Medical Ethics, or a Code of Institutes and Precepts, Adapted to the Professional Conduct of Physicians and Surgeons, in Private or General Practice XV. Some general rules should be adopted by the faculty, in every town, relative to the pecuniary acknowledgments of their patients; and it should be deemed a point of honour to adhere to this rule, with as much steadiness as varying circumstances will admit. For it is obvious, that an average fee, as suited to the general rank of patients, must be an inadequate gratuity from the rich, who often require attendance not absolutely necessary; and yet too large to be expected from that class of citizens, who would feel a reluctance in calling for assistance, without making some decent and satisfactory retribution.
