The emphasis is on the location of high quality psychology related Internet resources likely to be useful for learning, teaching and research. It is written on the basis of practical experience acquired by the author over many years of using Internet resources in the context of teaching undergraduate and postgraduate courses in the social sciences covering a wide range of topic specialisms and in informing academic staff. In addition to coverage of topics relating to the efficient location of files and Web sites, Part III provides an annotated list of high quality resources likely to be of use to students of psychology. The work is structured so that it will be found useful by both beginners and intermediate level users and be of continuing use over the course of higher education studies. 192 pp. Englisch.
